

newspapers of Concord and Manchester have been toward Mrs. Eddy on every occasion in which her name was brought up. It is, therefore, considered the more significant that the growth of public sentiment prompted the Manchester Union to print the following today:

PUBLIC IS SUSPICIOUS.
"If the public has been suspicious and the people of Concord, Mrs. Eddy's neighbors and friends, have wondered, there is very little reason to cry conspiracy when George W. Glover and other members of the immediate family of Mrs. Eddy voice some question about this."

All the above sentiments have been expressed by people here today, and it leads back every time to the question voiced in the Union this morning, namely, what have been done or who can be hurt by disavowing the allegations in the bill of equity and showing to the world that Mrs. Eddy's affairs have been properly administered, either by herself or by others? If there is any question whether or not everything is as it should be, there may be some reason for the extraordinary indignation expressed over the matter in Christian Science circles.

On the last occasion when the assessment rates were published in the Concord papers, Mrs. Eddy was taxed on her Pleasant View property for $12,000, on four horses $200, and on carriages $400.

The above comprised all the property on which she paid taxes.

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES.
The first legal move today in the Christian Science equity case in this city was a three-hour conference here of counsel for plaintiffs at which it was decided to begin tomorrow the service on the persons named in the bill of equity.

This followed the action of Gen. Streeter in Concord today in refusing to accept service as Mrs. Eddy's counsel.

It developed today that, no matter if the defendants should win the suit in equity, the trust fund created last week by Mrs. Eddy in favor of George W. Glover, her son, must stand. This trust is irrevocable to that extent.

TRUST DEED STANDS.
The security and money set aside under it for Glover and his daughter, and Mrs. Eddy's nephew, George W. Baker of Maine, are in the custody of the three trustees named in the deed. The value is $150,000. Streeter is one of the trustees, Irving R. Tomlinson, one of the defendants, is a second, and the third is a resident of this State.

Under no circumstances, it is understood, could Mrs. Eddy or any of the persons who have influenced her in making the trust, withdraw it of their own volition. If all the petitions made by Senator Chandler on behalf of the relatives should be disposed of in the affirmative, the trust would still benefit under the trust.

Senator Chandler said tonight: "If it should become necessary in running down the whereabouts of any of Mrs. Eddy's property, suit could be brought in the Federal courts of every State in which it was believed that any of her belongings were located."

Alfred Farlow, one of the defendants, tonight issued a statement in which he explained that he had not estimated Mrs. Eddy's wealth at $10,000, but only one piece of property. He said he did not know her wealth.

CONCEALS SIZE OF SALARIES.
Former Senator William E. Chandler, senior counsel for the relatives of Mrs. Eddy, who seek from the officials of the mother church an accounting of her estate, is extremely anxious to learn what salaries are drawn by Messrs. Farlow, Frye, Chase and the others named as defendants in the bill of equity, and they refuse to tell.

Farlow evaded the question in an interview. He said he first worked gratuitously and later received $500 a year. It has increased "considerably" to use his own words.

Asked if it was $25,000, he smiled, and smiled again when $10,000 was mentioned. He would not say whether it was $500 or $10,000; neither would he tell the salaries received by any of the others. He said Frye is in the personal employ of Mrs. Eddy, who alone knows his salary.

Although Samuel J. Elder, attorney for the Boston defendants named in the Glover petition, says that he can see how the affairs of the Christian Science church would be legally involved in a suit which involves Mrs. Eddy personally, the attorneys for the petitioners apparently are not connected with Mrs. Eddy's affairs.

CONFERENCE IS SECRET.
After former Senator Chandler and Messrs. Kelley and Martin, associate counsel, held a conference at the Parker House this afternoon they announced that they were not yet ready to give out any information. It is said, however, that they have been investigating the relations of the directors of the mother church and Mrs. Eddy's affairs.

While Gen. Streeter, counsel for Mrs. Eddy at Concord, appears at present to be blocking the plans of the petitioners to have the affairs of Mrs. Eddy's representatives aired in court, it is likely that very soon the attorneys for the petitioners will enter a suit in equity in Boston against the legal defendant named in the petition. With this they may file an attachment against Mrs. Eddy's Boston property and may succeed in forcing an explanation of her business as represented by the directors of the Boston church.

DIRECTORS FIX PAY.
Farlow, when asked today who regulated the salaries drawn by the officers of the Christian Science Church in Boston, said that this is regulated by the directors, who are Messrs. Armstrong and Johnston. He said that he did not know the exact manner of arranging salaries. When told that Chandler is anxious to learn the amount of the general church property, Farlow took occasion to correct some estimates which have been attributed to him. He said that the rough estimate of between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 is not his. He said that his personal estimate would not place the total assets of the Christian Science Church above $2,500,000, which would include real estate in and outside of Boston, cash deposits, and everything else belonging to the church.

HAS MILLION IN CASH.
Mr. Farlow said he does not think that there is more than $1,000,000 in cash on hand. The conference of counsel for the petitioners lasted from 2:30 o'clock until 6:30 o'clock this evening and was attended by former Senator Chandler and the three members of the law firm of Howe, Martin & Kelley, who are his legal associates in the case.

Another conference will be held tomorrow afternoon and Chandler will make his headquarters in this city for three days at least.

KING EDWARD ARRIVES.
HARRIS (France) March 5.—King Edward arrived here today on a special train from Paris.

JEROME EFFIANT, HAS A CLASH WITH JUDGE.

Refuses Point-Blank to Cite the Authorities Upon Which He Plans His Argument—Prosecution Still Has Much Ground to Cover in Thaw Case.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

NEW YORK, March 5.—Interest aroused in today's session of the trial of Harry K. Thaw by the announcement that Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the defendant, would take the witness stand, was quickly dulled by the continued cross-examination of Dr. Charles G. Wagner, one of the alienists for the defense, by Dist. Atty. Jerome.

Dr. Wagner was on the stand all day, and when adjournment was announced the District Attorney seemed to have much ground yet to cover. Mrs. Thaw was present in the witness room today waiting to be called, but she may not be reached before late tomorrow, or Thursday morning.

While decidedly dull in the matter of testimony, today's session was made notable by a clash between Dist. Atty. Jerome and Justice Fitzgerald, at the climax of which the Prosecuting Attorney refused point blank to cite to the court the authorities upon which he was presenting an argument.

Jerome was requested by the presiding judge to submit to him whatever authorities he has had upon the subject.

"I have such a high respect for the courts of this jurisdiction," retorted Jerome, "that I will not submit any authorities on a question of law which is so elemental in character and upon which the authorities are so abundant that I must presume the learned court knows of them."

With a flushed face and with a sharp rap of his gavel Justice Fitzgerald said if the District Attorney refused to submit the authorities, the court would assume that he did not know of any. Jerome did not submit any authorities, and Justice Fitzgerald ruled in favor of the defense on the point at issue, which was the question as to whether the State, on cross-examination, should be allowed to go further with an expert witness than counsel for the defense was allowed to go on direct examination.

Dist. Atty. Jerome was as defiant in his tone as he was in the words he uttered. Justice Fitzgerald rapped several times with his gavel, twisted about impatiently in his chair, and it was plainly with much effort that he retained his judicial composure.

The incident began with an objection interposed by Delmas to a question asked by Justice Fitzgerald. The District Attorney wanted the witness to repeat certain conversations he had had with Thaw in the Tombs. Delmas protested that he had not been allowed to go into these conversations on direct examination. He was proceeding at some length to state the position of the defense when Jerome interrupted with the remark that the argument did not call "for a stomp."

Delmas protested against this "offensive" language by the District Attorney. Justice Fitzgerald interposed in the exclusive village of Euclid, was found dead in her home tonight under circumstances pointing to murder. The police are working on the theory that the woman was dragged with poison and robbed.

BONILLA GOES TO HEAD ARMY.

HONDURAN PRESIDENT TO LEAD HIS TROOPS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)

CORTEZ (Honduras) March 5.—(By steamer to Mobile, Ala.) The following is a telegram to the commandantes received in Puerto Cortez today: "PALACE, Tegucigalpa, March 1.—Commandantes: In this moment I leave my bed where I have been confined by sickness to march for the South and put myself at the head of the army to repel the unjust aggression of the government of Nicaragua. I confide in you, that during my absence you will know how to comply with your duty, and I hope that the war will soon end with brilliant results for our arms. 'MANUEL BONILLA.'"

The correspondent says it will take Bonilla three days to reach the frontier and that the hardest fighting ever seen in Central America is expected to occur. President Bonilla's object being to drive at once to Managua.

The correspondent sends also a telegram to the commandantes from the Minister of Foreign Relations reviewing the course of President Zelaya and denouncing him. He denies that Honduran soldiers have committed depredations on Nicaragua and declares it absolutely false that Nicaraguans have defeated the Honduran forces.

CASE AT LAST TO TERMINATE.

Green-Gaynor Trial Hags Fire Seven Years.

Has Involved Arguments in Three Nations.

Embarrassment and Conspiracy Is Charged.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—The case of Green-Gaynor, charged with conspiracy against the United States government, was called for argument today before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

This case has been pending for more than seven years in one form or another, involving arguments before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, the United States Supreme Court, and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

After the original indictment had been found in Savannah, Ga., in 1899, the case was removed to New Orleans, La., where it was tried in 1900.

OPENING--EASTER MILLINERY STYLES

Today, March 6
Thursday, March 7

For spring styles, 1907, designers have been inspired by old miniatures of 100 years ago. This is exemplified in the extreme mushroom hat, untanned, and long in the back. Then there is the pompadour, which is a modification of the hat that is associated with the noted French woman. Nimble fingers have been flying for months fashioning hats to be ready for this opening show of ours. Hats that have all the graceful lines of those worn a century ago with an added touch here and there to meet the requirements of the fashionable woman of today.

There's a distinction about Broadway millinery, there's a "difference" in the way Broadway millinery is sold. "Put as much style, grace, and beauty as it is possible to put into a hat at whatever price you mark it," says the management. "Sell them as you would other merchandise. Deduct the prohibitive profits."

We've pictured here a number of the styles that you'll find in our show rooms on the second floor. Just a hint that tells of greater variety, and more beautiful hats than we've ever had at any previous spring showing.

Paris is the fountain head for exclusive pattern hats, and here are representative styles from such prominent makers as Gorette, Bonnet, Blum, Hilla-Beyer, Joseph, and others.

Side by side with these Paris hats are models from New York, and conceptions of our own artists. The latter so cleverly conceived that they fall fair to outrival the pattern hats. They are much more practical, because we designed them to meet the every day needs of this vicinity.

Color blittings were never so artistic. Champagne and mellow shades are finding favor to match gowns and costumes, and then dainty pearls and blues are much in vogue and the new Copenhagen blue is a decided novelty.

We're Emphasizing Especially Our Line of $5.00 Hats

Styles for women and misses, many of them copies of the exclusive models, hats that are practical, styles that are pretty for any occasion, designed to find favor with particular women. Come to this opening display today and Thursday, and see for yourself how pretty they are. Comparison proves.

CRISIS COMING IN DENOUEMENT

Subtreasury Mystery May Be Soon Solved.

Fitzgerald Threatens An Exposure of System.

Game of Silence Being Now Played by Silents.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES

CHICAGO, March 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Conflicting interests are expected to precipitate a crisis in the subtreasury investigation tomorrow. To those who have studied the progress of the inquiry into the loss of the $172,000, it seems probable that the developments of the day will result in definite disclosures of an important character.

Chief Wilkie, who had announced that he would return to Washington tomorrow, has abandoned his purpose and will remain in Chicago indefinitely. This is taken to indicate that he has discovered significant clues within the past twenty-four hours.

Teller Fitzgerald, whose leave of absence from the subtreasury expires tomorrow, will know whether he is to be returned to his desk. This seemed tonight extremely unlikely. In the event that his involuntary vacation is continued, he has threatened to make disclosures as to the system employed in the subtreasury. The nature of these disclosures was hinted at tonight when he said that he would not be made the "scapegoat for a rotten system."

With charges and counter charges being recklessly hurled about, some of the players in the game of silence are expected to be forced to show their hands.

Subtreasurer Boldenweck said before he left his office for the day that he had received no order from Washington reinstating Fitzgerald. In the absence of specific instructions, the assuring seller will remain "on leave."

On the back of these events the persistent rumor was circulated today that Subtreasurer Boldenweck's retirement has been settled. It was reported that his resignation, to take effect on June 1, had been demanded by the government. The subtreasurer, however, denied that he had received any such demand and in this he was supported by Deputy Treasurer Bantz.

BLAME WRECK ON DIRECTORS.
CORONER'S JURY HOLD NEW YORK CENTRAL OFFICIALS.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.
NEW YORK, March 5.—The jury on the coroner's inquest into the New York Central wreck in the Bronx on February 16, when twenty-three persons were killed, brought in a verdict today, holding the operating and constructing departments of the road responsible.

The coroner endeavored to get a recommendation as to individuals, but failed. He declared he would hold the entire body of the directors, and the president of the New York Central and parole them until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The directors of the New York Central are: Caughey, M. Depew, William K. Vanderbilt, Frederick K. Vanderbilt, Samuel F. Barger, J. Pierpont Morgan, H. McK. Twombly, H. Newman, Charles C. Clarke, George S. Rowden, William Rockefeller, D. O. Mills, James Stillman and George F. Baker. W. H. Newman is president.

DEPEW HELD BY JURY.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senator Depew, one of the directors of the New York Central Railroad, is held by the coroner's jury, which inquired into the wreck in the Bronx February 16, when twenty-three persons were killed, will go to New York this afternoon to consult with counsel for the road. He said today that he had not been summoned to appear, but he would be guided by the advice of counsel.

CLASH WITH FRANCE.
United States Faces Necessity of Tariff Revision to Avert Trouble.

PARIS, March 5.—The United States is likely soon to be confronted with the necessity for tariff negotiations with France. The special parliamentary committee charged with the revision of schedules has decided to maintain the maximum and minimum system with the former double the latter, for the purpose of forcing concessions from countries which, like the United States, refuse to make reciprocity treaties.

Without awaiting the general tariff revision measure, a bill to increase the duties on cottonseed and other vegetable oils, in whose production the United States is greatly interested, was called up in the chamber today. The bill now is $120 per 100 kilos. He said today that he had not been summoned to appear, but he would be guided by the advice of counsel.

To the West Indies, the Spanish Main, and a two-day's stop at Colon, that the Panama Canal work may be visited, the steamship Bluecher of the Hamburg-American line, sailed yesterday with her cabins full. In the large party are several members of Congress, including Speaker Cannon, who take the trip to see the operations upon the isthmus of Panama.

KAISER IN BUSINESS.
German Noblemen Appeals to His Class to Enter Trade, and Cites Illustrative Examples.

BERLIN, March 5.—A young German nobleman, in an appeal to his class to enter trade, dropping the obsolete idea that it is beneath their dignity, "to do some illustrative examples that they may follow."

"The Kaiser," he said, "as it is well known, possesses extensive pottery works on his estates in East Prussia, and conducts them himself with vigorous and commercial aim. The products of these imperial factories are sold by a branch of the business known as the 'Hohenzollern Store.'"

Prince Christian Hohenzollern is another example pointed to. He conducts different businesses on his estate in Wurttemberg.

ELIMINATIVE FIGHTS FOR WELTERWEIGHTS.

JACK PALMER, English pugilist who is after American fighters.

Dispatch.] Sam Langford, the negro welterweight, has been matched to fight Gunner Moir, the heavy-weight champion of England, in a twenty-round bout before the National Sporting Club of London, the second week in April.

Matchmaker Bettison of the N.S.C. cabled to Langford, stating that the match was on, and Langford sailed today from Boston on the steamship Ivernia, with Al Delmont, the New England featherweight, who is to box Owen Moran before the same club this month.

With this end in view they intend to get Harry Baker, the ex-amateur from San Francisco, to box Tommie Rawson of East Boston, the boy who met him in the national amateur championships in San Francisco a year ago next month.

The idea of the Chelsea Club people in putting Baker on is to learn just the position of the club and of fighting in that city.

BURKE AND PALMER.

NEW YORK, March 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, has been matched to fight Bill Egan of Australia for a purse of $20,000. The match will take place at Melbourne within six weeks. The majority of the report is borne out by the fact that the Australian champion failed to sail for this country last month.

AFTER GUNNER MOIR.

NEW YORK, March 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Jeannette, the negro heavyweight, may soon clash with Gunner Moir for the heavy-weight title of England. In answer to inquiries from the National Sporting Club of London, Jeannette's manager named the fight, which his man would make the trip. While the amount is not divulged, they are said to be entirely reasonable, and a favorably reply is expected.

JOHNSON AND SQUIRE.

NEW YORK, March 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, has been matched to fight Bill Egan of Australia for a purse of $20,000. The match will take place at Melbourne within six weeks. The majority of the report is borne out by the fact that the Australian champion failed to sail for this country last month.

FOOD POISONS

90 Per cent. of All Diseases the Result of Undigested Putrefying Foods.

Men of affairs, women of society and children with active brains are too often sedentary in their habits, giving little time to exercise. To this evil is added that of high and irregular living—as a result, the stomach cannot stand the demands made upon it. The abused and overtaxed stomach does not properly do the work of digestion, food taken in ferments and the poison permeates the whole system. The body loses in weight and becomes a prey for the attack of whatever disease it may encounter.

Did it ever occur to you how busy that stomach of yours is? It only holds three pints, but in one year you force it to take in 2400 pounds of material, digest it and prepare it for assimilation into the blood. No wonder it rebels when overworked. We crowd it with steaks and pastry, irritate its juices with spices and acids, and expect the stomach to do its work. It can't do it. All over the inner layer of the stomach are glands which secrete the juices necessary to digestion. The entrance of food into the stomach is the signal for these glands to do their work. The more the food, and the more indigestible, the greater the demand upon them and upon the muscles of the wall adjoining.

Think of the tons of high-seasoned games, sweetmeats and appetizers crammed into this little four-ounce mill, and then wonder, if you will, why you are dizzy or nauseated or constipated. Don't blame your stomach or curse your fate that you should be born so unfortunate. Blame yourself and apply the remedy.

First, get a small package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, taking one after each meal and at bed time. They are not a medicine, but a digestive. Your stomach is worn out and needs help, not medicine. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work that the stomach fails to do. There's enough power in one grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to digest 3000 grains of ordinary food, so you need not fear that anything you eat will remain in your stomach undigested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will root the poison because they remove the cause—food fermentation. They are nature's own cure for dyspepsia. The host of troubles dyspepsia is the cause of cannot be numbered, for a healthy stomach is the source of all health.

Size your opportunity before worse conditions confront you. Send today for a free trial package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. It will bring your stomach relief. F. A. Stuart Co., 33 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SHOTGUN SHOOT HIMSELF IN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The Gold Lace Handicap at Emeryville today was simply a gallop for the favorite, Shotgun, the big horse winning with the greatest ease. Collector Jessup, the second choice, outgamed Hector for the place. Happy Rice, favorite in the mile-and-twenty-yard event, made all the running, but had trouble in winning from the fast-moving Fairy Street. Results:

Four furlongs: Boas, 107 (Scoville), 2 to 1; Valoski, 102 (Dugan), 7 to 1; second: Jocky Mounce, 107 (W.L.H.), 8 to 1; third: time 0:49 4-5. Gin Hoe, Lake View, Bathmont, Warsaw, and Wayne also ran.

Mile and twenty yards, selling: Happy Rice, 101 (Hunter), even, won; Fairy Street, 102 (Hayes), 36 to 1; second: Sam Christian, 107 (Chet Daniel), 2 to 1; third: time 1:44. Bumble, Roman Boy, Irish Mail and Pyrrho also ran. Line of Life scratched.

Five and a half furlongs, the Gold Lace Handicap: Shotgun, 120 (Gra-

Army recruiting station at Haute, revealed a case of congenital transposition of the viscera. Serg. T. Smith discovered that the man's heart was on the right side. The recruit was submitted for examination by Dr. J. P. Stunkard and Dr. C.

The examination by physics showed that not only the heart, the liver, spleen and lungs were wrong sides. Arterial and nervous systems are also reversed. Otherwise yard is a perfect physical specimen.

School Discipline in Wisconsin
Public school discipline is a serious matter in Wisconsin, says the Chi-

Chronicle. A number of girls were expelled from the Chippewa Falls High School for writing a harmless play in doggerel verse on the school grounds and though their fathers took them into court the judge refused to expel the school principal to restore the sanctity of their offense.

The enormity of their task was judged by the first stanza of the "poem," which was as follows:

Sit gazing strictly to the front,
Until the teacher says "Stand!"
And then with dignity arise
And march to the brass band.
Such teachers and judges ought

POLICE BOARD SITS CHARGES.

Commission Holds Special Session to Clear Up Docket of Investigation Cases.

The Police Commission held a special session last night to clear up its docket in cases which required special investigation. There were two sets of charges against Patrolman W. Neelon, but neither of them stuck and the officer was vindicated, while his do-famers went away disgraced.

The case of W. A. King was continued for one week, the main reason being to give him a chance to prove that he told the truth to the Commission last night about having received a telegram from his brother in Colorado. It was charged that the telegram was a myth, and had never been sent to King.

King was dropped from the rolls last April. He left for Colorado without having secured permission, and this, with conduct unbecoming an officer, was charged against him. Before the investigation was finished, it developed that there was a number of reasons why there was opposition to the reinstatement of King. Capt. A. Able charged that King was a very poor officer, that he became indolent, borrowed money from the people on his post and went away without settling up; and Capt. Flamminger charged that the man was lacking in courage necessary for an officer, and there were witnesses to prove King's action against Charles McDonald, now serving a ten-year sentence in the penitentiary.

The last case before the commission was one of real human interest. L. N. Edwards, who has served the city as an officer for nine and a half years, but who was dropped a year ago, asked for reinstatement.

The one fault with "Late" Edwards was that which got the best of him. He honestly admitted it, and told of the difficulties he had met until he was finally dropped; but he declared that for the past year he had been trying to break off from drinking and believed that he was going to succeed.

Edwards was put under kindly censure by the members of the commission and Mayor Harper, and he confessed that he had had two drinks yesterday, but "figured" that it would take only two weeks more to get his drink portion down to nothing.

Commissioner Schenck turned Good Samaritan and offered to stand sponsor for Edwards while he takes a drink-cure treatment in which Schenck has unbounded confidence, and as the man made solemn promises to abstain from the commission decided to reinstate him.

Edwards was put under kindly censure by the members of the commission and Mayor Harper, and he confessed that he had had two drinks yesterday, but "figured" that it would take only two weeks more to get his drink portion down to nothing.

Commissioner Schenck turned Good Samaritan and offered to stand sponsor for Edwards while he takes a drink-cure treatment in which Schenck has unbounded confidence, and as the man made solemn promises to abstain from the commission decided to reinstate him.

The one fault with "Late" Edwards was that which got the best of him. He honestly admitted it, and told of the difficulties he had met until he was finally dropped; but he declared that for the past year he had been trying to break off from drinking and believed that he was going to succeed.

SAN CARLO ARTISTS PLEASE THOUSANDS AT THE OPENING NIGHT OF GRAND OPERA.

GRAND OPERA Impromptu, but nevertheless real grand opera, probably the best in ensemble effects that Los Angeles has ever heard, began its two weeks' season at the Angelus gardens last night, with Ponchielli's "Gioconda" as a first offering. "Auspicious"—old word which is the society editor's stand-by—is a fitting adjective to apply to this opening. The smart society of the town was in attendance. In all, probably 2000 people were in the interior of the building when the curtain rose.

Mr. Russell deserves the thanks of the community for his company—and the sympathy of the people for his hopeless little stage, upon which, in desperate haste, his valiant workmen endeavored to mount settings made for the French Opera-house of New Orleans and the Chicago Auditorium.

So, for the rest of the two weeks, visitors at the palm garden may expect splendid music, and should extend their consideration to the excuses scenery. Obviously, the management is at its wit's end as far as this is concerned. Four carloads of excellent mountings are stored on Requesena street, but so small is the opening above the stage that very little of this can be utilized with any degree of success.

ONE OF THE BEST.

Considered in detail, the company is one of the best which has ever sung in Los Angeles.

Especially commendable is the well-modulated, concerted, precise work of the chorus people. Italian choruses are not models of beauty, as a rule, but this company is far less melancholy than the average aggregation, and the soprano row fortunately contains a number of very pretty faces. And when it comes to singing—here the work of the chorus-master is magnificently in evidence, and also the precise baton of Maestro Arnaldo Conti, who rules his choristers as if inviolable threads bound their vocal chords to his baton.

Mr. Russell's orchestra is very worthy of notice. It contains nearly fifty men, and the instrumentation is complete and well divided. The strings are beautifully sonorous, and the director gained many fine effects from them last night. The brasses were played too loud in the overture, and, owing to peculiar construction of the square room in which the company is performing, should hereafter be modulated to some degree.

A GREAT TENOR.

Turning to the singers, Florencio Constantino stands pre-eminent. He is one of the great tenors of the world. To the writer he seems absolutely the equal of Caruso in the efforts where Caruso exceeds him in more sensuous beauty of tone. Constantino surpasses the other in superb vocal power. Constantino is that which Caruso is not—an absolutely finished artist. In his mezzo-voice deliverance his accomplishments are indescribable, so smooth are his notes, and so flawless his facile passages. Constantino seems to possess absolute command over the state of his voice, sending it to a ringing fortissimo or dwindling it down to a mere distant, vibrant echo at will.

In quality his voice—like Caruso's—is an unimpeachable tenor, of splendid timbre and great expressiveness. As far as vocal technique is concerned, this singer is a delightful master, and listening to his singing is a pleasure.

Long in local prominence will linger his exquisite "Cielo e mar," voted with infinite tenderness from the dock of the mines vessel in the second act. He proceeded it with a splendid bit of recitative, done as surely and crisply as a violin staccato, and with astonishingly distinct enunciation. At the conclusion of his great aria, handkerchiefs were flung in the air, and umbrellas drummed on the floor, and bravos and cries of "Bis! Bis!" rose above the roar of manual applause. Of course he repeated the last verse.

In person Constantino is eminently adapted to heroic roles. Above medium stature, he has a handsome and commanding presence, combined with an unusually pleasing manner. These assets, for favor, used jointly with the noble quality of his voice, give him an undisputed place as an operatic idol.

Mme. Nordica received the ovation to be accorded an honored favorite, and sang with much taste and artistic discretion throughout the opera. It cannot be overestimated that Mme. Nordica possesses the vocal clarity and agility which once distinguished her, or even the size or quality of voice, but she has kept more than the ordinary sharp of gifts, and sang in splendid form last evening. Greatly to be enjoyed was her Gioconda from a dramatic viewpoint. Mme. Nordica seems very valuable to this company by her dramatic and intellectual gifts alone.

Mme. Monti-Baldini, who was entrusted with the important role of Laura, is a veteran of the operatic field, and brought to the part the assets of wide experience and good judgment. Her voice, however, did not show up well at all times, distinct effect being noticeable in many of her phrases.

To Mme. Conti-Borinetti, who sang the comparatively unimportant role of La Cioia, must be accorded the feminine honors. Mme. Borinetti exhibited not only great art and much dramatic ability, but a contralto voice of thrillingly beautiful quality—most effective in the lower register, and slightly misused in the upper.

M. Fornari, who was to sing Barnaba, is saved for tonight's "Rigoletto," since Campanari is not with the company, and his role was given last evening to Adamo Golper, the Russian baritone. Golper gave a superb heroic interpretation of the part, to which he added an unusually fine voice. His vocal qualifications, in fact, promise much enjoyment for his further appearances in the extended engagement here.

SPANISH BASS.

Señor Andrea Perella del Segura, the Spanish bass, was appropriately cast as Alvise, a character which he interpreted to the great satisfaction of his audience. Segura is still a very young man, and although he sang two years ago with a Metropolitan company in New York, he is fresh with many vocal enthusiasms. He has an excellent method, good stage training and a very good natural voice—though in this manner he has not been gifted as abundantly as young Orino Lombardi, who is to be heard here this summer in comic opera.

A delightful feature of the production was the exquisite ballet of the Hours, well known in its music to every concert-goer. Director Conti gave a finished translation from the orchestra, and Mr. Russell's ballet corps of twelve pretty French girls, with an artistic premiere danseuse, furnished apt and beautiful illustrations from the stage.

In music and dramatic work a great feat may be expected in tonight's "Rigoletto," in which Miss Nielsen will make her first appearance here this year, as Gilda. Sig. Constantino will sing the Duke, and Fornari will appear in the title role. Mme. Monti-Baldini will take the part of Maddalena.

COURTHOUSE INSURANCE.

Protection on Books, Maps and Records Is to Be Raised Twenty Thousand Dollars.

The Board of Supervisors took up the matter of a renewal of insurance on county property. The only case in which a change is to be made over the rates for the past year will be on the county's books, maps and records. These records, which could not be replaced for probably a million of dollars, have been protected with only $10,000 worth of insurance. Yesterday Supervisor Patterson made a plea for the extension of this protection to at least $20,000, but he was outvoted, and it was decided to raise the insurance to $25,000 on the records kept in the Courthouse, and $2000 on those which will be kept in the annex being constructed in the first floor on the old County Jail building.

The county carries $150,000 on the Courthouse, and $25,000 on its furniture and fixtures. There is $45,000 insurance on the County Hospital buildings, and the group of buildings at the County Farm are protected with an insurance of $35,000.

TRAIN LOST ALL DAY OUT ON THE DESERT.

LOST in the desert was the experience of the Sunset Express, the regular Southern Pacific train from New Orleans, due here at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. It was found last night.

When the storm struck the Southwest, Monday, after its Sunday-night preliminary drizzle, the train had passed the Colorado and started across the desert on the California side. That was the last heard of it.

Somewhere out in the sand wastes a little sandhill changed its base and acquired the new smooth rounded. The wind blew all kinds of ways and the rain and sand beat on the train like a hail storm. The wires were all down, and the train consequently incommunicado.

Meanwhile at this end, as the hours passed there was first some speculation, then wonder, then anxiety. All along the line where the wires were often the queries flashed for news of the lost express. But there was no trace of it. All that could be surmised was that somewhere out there in the storm on the desert there was a train, but it was lost.

Last evening, nearly twelve hours later, the train came puffing in at Arcadia station as though nothing had happened out of the ordinary, but it seemed to be quite proud of being found again, and it certainly received a welcome from the railroad officials and friends of those aboard.

Reports are that out in the Colorado Desert there are all kinds of lakes, ponds, brooks, rivers and pools in spots where men at other times have actually died of thirst. But the desert swallows them all up very quickly.

COAST LINE OPEN.

On other lines of the Southern Pacific there is also much trouble, but the Coast Line is now open and trains are running on fairly good time. This line is the only outlet from Los Angeles and until this morning had been the ticket office at Sixth and Spring streets was crowded with tourists trying to get away.

But the valley line of the Southern Pacific is taking a rest. Both washouts and landslides have been playing havoc with the tracks of this road, and no trains were run out for the North over its tracks yesterday or last night. Just this side of tunnel No. 17 a great mass of earth, loosened by the rain, swooped down upon the track and buried the rails deep enough to plant screws over. A big force of men was sent to the spot and it is expected that the track will be cleared today.

But the unfortunate valley line was not to escape so easily. Monday night the tracks were washed away in Los Angeles at 8:25 this morning, is stalled just north of the washout, and the spending the balance of the day and probably part of the night in the mountains. The north-bound Owl will probably reach San Francisco at midnight, about fifteen hours late.

DEATH'S RIDE IN TORRENT.

Veteran Tossed to His End by Cloudburst.

Widow Left Alone in the Mountain Wilds.

Storm's Tragedy in Lytle Creek Canyon.

Death swept down the cañon of Lytle Creek in the San Bernardino Mountains, late Monday afternoon upon the crest of a cloudburst and claimed as a victim the veteran of a score of cavalry charges in the Civil War.

But the white foam horses of the cañon torrent were more restless than Confederate cavalry and E. S. Morehouse, veteran of the Tenth Michigan Cavalry, died in his boots battling to the last against the forces of nature. Yesterday morning his body was found in the wash at the mouth of the cañon, battered and bruised.

Up in a little lonely miner's cabin in a nook in the silent hills is a despairing woman, the widow, destitute and loveless as she left alone in the wilderness. The fact that she hardly has enough to eat makes to her today little difference. Her one thought is to get out of that great chasm to attend the funeral of her husband at the Soldiers' Home near Los Angeles.

Bradstreet, a companion of Morehouse in his drive to death up the cañon, escaped as by a miracle. After reaching the side of the hill and dragging himself out of the flood to high ground, he lay exhausted and helpless in the rain all night, and early yesterday morning managed to crawl to the power-house of the water company near the mouth of the cañon. There he received help and told his story of the wall of water which rolled down upon him.

SAID HE WOULD RETURN.

The two men were miners and had claims up in the cañon in the heart of the mountains. Monday they were short of provisions and went to San Bernardino for them, leaving Mrs. Morehouse alone, but with the assurance from her husband that he would surely return before night.

All day the rain fell in torrents and the creeks were swollen. Lytle Creek, when they drove into the cañon, was already a torrent, but Morehouse never hesitated. He told his companion that his wife expected him and that he was going up, to meet or be met.

They had already driven about half a mile up the half-washed-out road when they heard above the swirling rain and screech of the wind a curious booming. Then suddenly in the growing darkness they saw racing toward them a foam-crested wave of water.

Like a solid wall it seemed actually to creep toward them, and as the flood struck the great boulders in the riverbed, spots of wind-lashed spume shot into the air to great heights to be whirled away upon the storm; trunks of trees, jagged boulders, the debris of a mountain side was whirling and tossed in the grasp of the rolling, roaring flood, like jackstraws or marbles.

WHIRLED TO DEATH.

Desperately the men strove to turn the team up the mountain side, but only could they get out of the direct force of the current when the wave overhauled them. In an instant they were swept away. Bradstreet clung to the side of the wagon, but was torn from his hold and whirled upon the crest of the flood. By superhuman efforts he managed to reach high ground only to fall exhausted and helpless. He did not see his companion again.

And Morehouse, caught in the foaming waters he was dashed out of his wagon as though struck some powerful blow and was engulfed in the flood. Apparently he was struck by a boulder or log for he did not appear again nor cry. He was swallowed up.

Men from the power-house started out in search of his body before noon and found it lying at the edge of the flood, battered and cut by contact with the rocks, from the heart of which he had hoped to mine a fortune. It was tenderly borne to the power-house and later sent to San Bernardino, and will be given a soldier's burial among his old comrades in the resting place for heroes in the beautiful Santa Monica hills.

But the flood was still raging and traffic up the cañon was impossible. It was known that Mrs. Morehouse was almost without provisions and that alone it would be impossible to get out of the mountains.

HIS HORRIBLE CLIMB.

Early yesterday afternoon the foreman of the power-house determined that Mrs. Morehouse should be notified of her husband's death and any assistance which was possible, given her, with the utmost difficulty this brave man made his way in the storm over the mountains, clambering along ledges, climbing up ridges, following goat and deer paths in the heavy scrub. Finally he reached the lonely cabin and broke to the sorrowing woman the news of her husband's tragic death.

Mrs. Morehouse was too weak and overcome to attempt the terrible path over the mountains, so cheering her with the promise of speedy assistance as soon as the flood waters subsided, the foreman faced again the granite hills and made his way back to the power-house to arrange for the rescue of Mrs. Morehouse.

As soon as the waters go down men made to permit a team to be driven up the rough channel of the creek a rescue party will start for the little cabin in the mountains to bring out the widow, with the hope that she will still be strong enough to travel to Los Angeles and attend the funeral of her husband.

A strange freak of the flood was that the team escaped. It was found standing near the scene of the tragedy at last night on the hill. No rats lapping around their legs, apparently too weary to try to drag the heavy wagon further up the hill side.

WARRANT FOR BATTERY.

With his face beaten almost to a jelly and his eyes nearly closed, Henry Messenger, of No. 825 Central avenue, applied to City Prosecutor Eddy yesterday for a warrant. He charges Joseph Eberhart, of No. 1608 East Eighth street, with battery. Messenger said that Eberhart asked him to pay a bill and that when he asked for time, Eberhart assaulted him. The warrant was issued.

REAL ESTATE RECORD.
SYNDICATE BUYS DOWN ON OLIVE.
LOT NEAR EIGHTH IS SOLD BY NILES PEASE.
Hundred Thousand Dollars Paid for Frontage of Eighty-five Feet. Broadway Sale Reported—Twelfth-street Property Transferred—Buy on East Ninth Street.
The Wright & Colender Company reports the sale of a lot on the east side of Olive street, immediately adjoining the northwest corner of Eighth, lot sixteen, for $100,000. A local syndicate bought for the purpose of holding for an investment. Niles Pease is the grantor. The lot is vacant. The price is at the rate of $1100 a front foot. It is said that surrounding property cannot be bought now for less than $1500 a front foot.

IN SOUTHEASTER'S FEET.
The terrific southeaster which prevailed about San Pedro Monday continued throughout the night, with additional fury. About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the wind blew a hurricane, accompanied by extremely heavy rain. The incessant pounding of the high seas against the breakwater proved more than the structure could stand, and during the night fifty bents or about 500 feet of the trestle work was washed away. The damage will cost about $3000 to repair, and the work of dumping rock on the giant pier will be delayed for about three weeks.

STORM RIPS AT PIERS.
The storm brought down 38 of an inch of rain at Santa Ana. The high seas at Balboa tore out four sections of the Balboa wharf and at Newport Beach several piers were washed out of the southern Pacific wharf. The reports from up the Santa Ana River are that the stream is increasing. With a fall of 1.67 inches of rain in thirty-six hours at Riverside the total for the season has been increased to 14.39 inches, which is nearly one-third more than the average for the entire season. This has put a stop to the picking of oranges for a while, giving the railroads an opportunity to catch up their orders for cars. The ground in the county's back country has been put in ideal condition for the growing grain, and farmers in the wheat and barley sections are figuring on a record crop.

Purity is Supreme
The materials we use are the best we can buy. And a partner in our business selects them.
The goodness of Schlitz is due largely to them.
But the supremacy of Schlitz as a home beer has been gained by the fact of its absolute purity.
Purity is not so conspicuous as some qualities in beer, yet it is very expensive. That is why it is rare.
But what does it matter how good a beer is if it is not a pure beer? If its use is unhealthy? If its result is biliousness?
Schlitz beer is known as the pure beer the world over.

What a Difference in the Purchasing Power of Money in Fourteenth Century.

Two cents or its equivalent would buy a pair of chickens in the fourteenth century. For the value of a nickel one could acquire a goose fit for a Christmas dinner in the fourteenth century.

A penny would purchase a dozen strictly fresh eggs in the fourteenth century, while for 2 cents the brewer would buy the best in market, while for a fat hog one need only part with 80 cents.

The other side of the story, so far as the laboring man is concerned, comes in the following figures: Three cents a day was considered good wages for an ordinary laborer, while at harvest time 4 cents was the highest amount expected.

OLD VETERAN IS IN NEED.

For Leaving Regiment He Is Refused Pension.

Family Butchered While He Serves His Country.

Wealthy New Yorker's Novel Life-Saving Plan.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON (D. C.) March 1.—Away back in 1862 Henson Wiseman lived in Cedar county, Neb., with his family, consisting of his wife and five children. He enlisted as a member of Co. I, Second Nebraska Cavalry, which was doing duty as home guards. His regiment was ordered into the Dakota and Wiseman was begged by his friends not to go for fear the Indians would massacre his family if it was left alone.

Wiseman had only recently gone to the new country from West Virginia, and did not believe the stories he had heard of the savagery of the Indians. He left his family and went with his regiment. In July, 1862, while Wiseman's wife and mother were at Yankee buying supplies, Indians swooped down on the little homestead and butchered the five children, killed the mother and burned it. While the Indians were still about the homestead, Mrs. Wiseman and her mother-in-law returned, but escaped by hiding in the tall prairie grass.

A month later Wiseman heard a rumor that a family had been butchered in Cedar county, and that an Indian had been seen at the Crow Agency wearing a pair of his wife's shoes. He left his regiment without leave and hurried 200 miles to his home, and there learned the details of the massacre.

On the day following the butchery neighbors went to the home and found a five-year-old boy and his fifteen-year-old sister still alive, but both died without being able to make any statement.

Wiseman is still living in Cedar county. He is 90 years old now, and as the years have not laid hands lightly upon him, he is almost helpless and is in need. He has long been looking to the government to help keep him alive, but because he, in his great grief, left his regiment without leave, a pension has so far been denied him. An effort will be made to get Congress to clear the old man's record so that he may have the few dollars to ease the approaching end.

LIFE-SAVING CHARITY.
John Arbuckle of New York is a man of ideas. His first big idea was to put into effect his floating hospital for the working girls and young men of his city. They were more or less successful because if there is any one thing a New Yorker likes on a hot summer night it is to get out to sea, and everybody cannot afford to hire a yacht. Now he proposes, at his own expense, to go into the life-saving business. According to his own story Mr. Arbuckle's plan has the approval of President Roosevelt, with whom he has gone over the whole thing. On a recent visit here Mr. Arbuckle said:

"I have always been interested in machinery and have made a good deal of money from my patents. Recently I built stout sea-going tug with patients of my own on her compressed air, steam and water systems. She is the Helen M. Fields, and 140 feet over all. A few days ago, also, I bought out the North American Wrecking Company and came into possession of another wrecking tug of about the same dimensions and a wrecking barge named the Lottie. This makes a pretty good fleet for wrecking purposes."

"Now, a great many vessels go ashore too far out for the coast life-saving crews to reach them. If word could be sent to New York the instant wrecks are sighted, vessels could go to the scene and save the people. My wrecking barge draws only four feet of water. It could get very close to almost any wreck. If not close enough to use the flexible line gangway, at least near enough to use the breeches buoy."

"My two tugs would tow the barge into position and anchor her, then stand by at anchor to give aid. All three of my vessels are equipped with large tanks of oil, which they would spread over the sea to calm it. They are equipped with cannon and life lines."

IN INSTANT READINESS.
"My fleet would be stationed at Sandy Hook Lightship with steam up, always in readiness to set out at a moment's notice. But in order to make this service effective it is necessary to have the cooperation of the life-saving service along the coast. From the spirit which was manifested when I applied to them for aid, it is evident to me that I should get no assistance unless Congress ordered the life savers to do it."

"So I called on President Roosevelt at the White House and showed him my drawings. He understood the plan in a moment, and said it was a good thing. He also dictated a letter to Representative Cocks of the Oyster Bay district, commending my plan to him and asking him to take it up with the Treasury Department and to introduce my bill in Congress."

"The bill requires that the life-saving service shall notify all wrecking companies who have life-saving vessels equipped with wireless telegraph, whenever wrecks occur on the Atlantic Coast, that the service shall cooperate with the wrecking companies and that none of the companies shall receive any remuneration from the government for their service in saving life."

"In our fire department," concluded Mr. Arbuckle, "a minute may mean the loss of thousands of dollars. Why is it not more important to notify promptly the vessels that are ready and able to save lives at sea?"

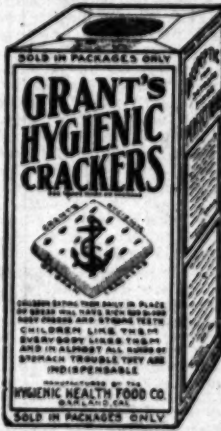

"So if Mr. Arbuckle's plan is approved by Congress New York will have a service on the water not unlike the fire department on land, fleet of stanch craft lying in readiness at the Sandy Hook station to dash out to sea at the first alarm."

FOR BETTER SWITCH LOCKS.
Jury Which Investigates Circumstances of Salt Lake Wreck Makes an Important Recommendation.

"We the Coroner's Jury recommend that railroad companies be required to provide suitable switches with proper locks, and to keep switches locked."

This recommendation was made yesterday by the jury impaneled by Coroner Lantieri to inquire into the cause of the death of Engineer C.
